Country context (optional)

Please use this field to provide any relevant contextual or background information about the country's law, policy, and practice, or the stateless population, to help contextualise the information in the survey (optional question).

Statelessness in the Czech Republic is mainly linked with migration and there is no information available about the in situ stateless population. UNHCR estimates there to be 1,500 stateless people in the Czech Republic, based on a mapping study of statelessness carried out in 2018 and published in December 2020. The population census from 2011 included the categories 'no citizenship' (1,502 people) and 'not identified' (60,208 people). A new census carried out in 2021 included the category 'not identified' (29,137 people), but not the category 'no citizenship'. The Czech Republic gathers and makes available statistical data on asylum, immigration and, to some extent, statelessness, which is disaggregated by sex (and some also by age). The Ministry of Interior reports the number of stateless people with legal residence on a monthly basis. The Czech Statistical Office and Ministry of the Interior publish annual disaggregated data under the combined nationality categories 'stateless and not identified and other', 'citizenship unknown or non-identified', and 'Palestinians'. The Ministry of Interior also reports figures on the number of asylum seekers and people granted international protection disaggregated by nationality (see POP section for latest figures).

The legal and policy framework in the Czech Republic has some positive aspects and some significant gaps. The Czech Republic is party to most relevant international and regional instruments, including three of the four core statelessness conventions (although it retains reservations to the 1954 Convention). However, the Czech Republic does not have a dedicated statelessness determination procedure. Since 2019, the Ministry of Interior has issued decisions confirming statelessness under the 1954 Convention, but there is no clear procedure set in law for these decisions, although jurisprudence requires that the rules applying to the refugee determination procedure should apply. Between 2019 and 2021, jurisprudence conferred by analogy the same rights that asylum-seekers had to applicants for the statelessness determination procedure, such as the right to stay on the territory and receive an identity document during the procedure, the right to accommodation in the reception centre for asylum seekers and the right to health insurance. The provision regulating the determination of statelessness was moved from the Asylum Act to the Immigration act by a legislative amendment in 2021, which resulted in more limited procedural safeguards for applicants. Even though the analogy with rights under the asylum procedure should be preserved according to current jurisprudence (see section RES.1.a), the new procedure is very unclear, and the rights granted to stateless applicants are weaker.

There are also gaps in the legal framework to protect stateless people from arbitrary immigration detention. There are positive safeguards in place to prevent childhood statelessness, but the safeguard for children born in the Czech Republic is only partial and depends on the actions or status of parents. Positively, there are no legal powers for the authorities to deprive someone of Czech nationality, no provisions for automatic loss, and safeguards are in place to prevent statelessness in cases of voluntary renunciation of nationality.

		Does the State have a 'stateless' category in its data collection systems (e.g. census)? Please list available figures for the total stateless population on the territory and describe how data is disaggregated (e.g. by sex, age, residence).	CEDAW, Gen. Rec. 32 (2014): States parties should gather, analyse and make available sexdisaggregated statistical data and trends. Council of the European Union, Conclusions on Statelessness (2015): Recognise the importance of exchanging good practices among Member States concerning the collection of reliable data on stateless persons as well as the procedures for determining statelessness. UNHCR, Global Action Plan to End Statelessness 2014-24 (2014): Improve quantitative and qualitative	Yes. Population census from 2021: Category 'not identified': 29,137 people (also disaggregated by sex: 13,116 women and 16,021 men) The category 'no citizenship' that was included in the last census, no longer appears. POP.1.a	Availability and sources		data on stateless populations. ISI, The World's Stateless (2014): States should strengthen measures to count stateless persons on their territory.	The Czech Statistical office and the Ministry of the Interior collect data on foreigners in the Czech Republic. Data is disaggregated by nationality, sex, age and by residence. It is published annually. Numbers of the Directorate of Foreign police service, available on Czech Statistical Office website: Category: Stateless + Not identified + Other: - up to December 2021, there were 851 persons (excluding people who were granted asylum); 948 persons in total (including people granted asylum) - up to December 2020, there were 719 in total (excludes people who were granted asylum) - up to 31 December 2019, there were 843 persons (including people granted asylum) Numbers of the Ministry of the Interior: Statistics on number of stateless persons having legal residence on the Czech territory (disaggregated by type of residence and by sex), published every month. POP.1.b		Do public authorities define data categories that may overlap (e.g. unknown nationality) or where stateless people might be more highly represented (e.g. Palestinian)? Please explain and provide any available figures.	As above	- 398 stateless persons with permanent residence permit Statistics of Ministry of the Interior: "Citizenship unknown or non-identified" (XXX): 37 persons with temporary residence permit and 23 persons with permanent residence permit up to October 2022 "Palestinians": 85 persons with temporary residence permit and 125 persons with permanent residence permit up to October 2022 Numbers of the Czech Statistical Office (Annual census): Category: Stateless + Not identified + Other: up to 31.12.2021, there were 851 persons (excl. people granted asylum); 948 persons in total (incl. people granted asylum) "Palestine": 200 persons (excl. people granted asylum); 201 persons in total (incl. people granted asylum) up to 31.12.2021	Ministry of the Interior of the Czech Republic, Statistics, Foreigners with valid residence, October 2022 (CZE) Czech Statistical Office, Foreigners, category by residence, sex, and citizenship as at 31 December 2021) – data excluding people granted asylum / data including people granted asylum
POP.1.c		What is UNHCR's estimate for the stateless/at risk of statelessness population and what is the source for this estimate?	As above	UNHCR estimates that there were 1,625 stateless people in the Czech Republic in mid-2022.	UNHCR, Faces of Statelessness in the Czech Republic, December 2020 UNHCR, Refugee Data Finder
POP.1.d		Have there been any surveys or mapping studies to estimate the stateless population in the country?	As above	The first mapping study on statelessness was conducted by UNHCR in 2018 and published in December 2020.	UNHCR, Faces of Statelessness in the Czech Republic, December 2020

POP.1.e		Are there any other sources of estimates for the stateless population not covered by the above? Please list sources and figures.	As above	No.
POP.1.f		Are there issues with the reliability of data or indications that the stateless population may be over/under reported? If yes, please describe.	As above	Figures are only for those that have legal residence. However, even these data are incomplete and scattered in various registries, which blurs the overall picture of the precise number of legally residing stateless persons. The UNHCR study also states that in some cases the statistical code lists were inadequately structured and did not indicate statelessness, plus errors were made in the completion of statistical forms and sometimes nationality codes were wrongly assigned to stateless persons. Persons without any legal status are estimated in an annual survey of the Ministry of the Interior and the Immigration Police also counts the number of known irregular migrants (which is however	Quarterly Report on migration, Ministry of the Interior, Second trimester of 2021(CZE) UNHCR, Faces of Statelessness in the Czech Republic, December 2020 Czech Statistical Office, Foreigners in the Czech Republic (Annual Report), 2020 - data up to 31.12. 2019 (CZE, ENG)
POP.1.g		Please provide any available figures for stateless refugees and/or asylumseekers and clarify if the State also counts these groups in figures for the stateless population (i.e. to avoid under/over-reporting).	As above. EASO/EUAA, Practical guide on registration (2021): States should collect information from applicants for international protection about their nationality(ies) and potential lack of nationality. When registering families, it is important to collect this data for each family member.	only a fragment of the whole number). Ministry of the Interior provides annual and monthly statistical overview of asylum-seekers in the Czech Republic, also disaggregated by nationality. Persons with granted refugee status are counted separately. In 2021, there were 9 international protection applications initiated by stateless persons. 13 decisions for stateless persons were given that year – 3 persons were granted subsidiary protection, 7 persons were issued with a negative decision and in 3 cases the proceeding was discontinued. Up to December 2021: - 21 stateless persons were granted refugee status - 54 stateless persons were granted subsidiary protection status Census of refugees according to their country of origin but there also other groups (people that already came to the Czech Republic with a granted status): "Convention refugee status": 16 persons (7 with temporary residence permit and 9 with permanent residence permit) up to October 2022 "Refugee - others": 5 persons (3 with temporary residence permit and 2 with permanent residence permit)up to October 2022	Ministry of the Interior of the Czech Republic, International Protection in the Czech Republic, annual statistical overview, 2021 (also available in English) Czech Statistical Office, Foreigners in the Czech Republic (Annual Report), 2019 - data up to 31.12.2019 (CZE, ENG Ministry of the Interior of the Czech Republic, International Protection in the Czech Republic, Annual Statistic Overview, Data up to 31.12.2020 (CZE, ENG) Ministry of the Interior of the Czech Republic, Statistics, Foreigners with valid residence, October 2022 (CZE)
POP.2.a	Stateless in detention data	Does the State record and publish figures on stateless people held in immigration detention? If yes, please provide.	UNHCR, Global Action Plan to End Statelessness 2014-24 (2014): Improve quantitative and qualitative data on stateless populations. CEDAW, Gen. Rec. 32 (2014): State parties should gather, analyse and make available sexdisaggregated statistical data and trends. ISI, The World's Stateless (2014): States should strengthen measures to count stateless persons on their territory.	The census of the Czech statistical office and of the Ministry of interior corresponds. However, due to lack of harmonisation of the data categories, and use of categories such as "unknown nationality", numbers may be inaccurate. The Refugee Facilities Administration that manages detention facilities has its internal census of foreigners disaggregated by nationality, sex, age and status (asylum seeker or not). Following a freedom of information request, the Refugee Facilities Administration was disclosed that 1 stateless person was detained in the period between 1 January and 9 November 2021. Following a freedom of information request, the Directorate of Foreign Police stated that they do not hold statistics disaggregated	Refugee Facilities Administration of the Ministry of the Interior, "Správa uprchlických zařízení" Freedom of Information Request by OPU to Refugee Facility Administration and the Directorate of Foreign Police (requests sent on 9/11/2021).

SDS.1.a	Definition of a stateless person	Is there a definition of a stateless person in national law? Do the definition and exclusion provisions align with the 1954 Convention? SDS.2.b		Is there training for judges and lawyers on statelessness? If yes, please provide details (e.g. provider, frequency).	UNHCR, Good Practices Papers – Action 6 (2020): Officials who may be in contact with stateless persons need to be trained to identify potential applicants for statelessness status and refer them to appropriate channels. UNHCR, Geneva Conclusions (2010): It is recommended that States provide specialised training on nationality laws and practices, international standards and statelessness to officials responsible for making statelessness determinations.	As above. In addition, there were two trainings organised in 2016 and 2017 by UNHCR in cooperation with the Czech Ombudsperson's Office on statelessness. These focused mainly on lawyers providing free legal aid to migrants in the Czech Republic. Currently there is no training for judges or lawyers on statelessness. SDS.3.a	Existence of a dedicated SDP	Which of the following best describes the situation in your country? Choose only one and then proceed to question indicated. 1. There is a dedicated statelessness determination procedure (SDP) established in law, administrative guidance, or judicial procedure, leading to a dedicated statelessness status (answer Question SDS.3.b. and proceed to Question 4a). 2. There is no dedicated SDP leading to a dedicated statelessness status, but there are other procedures in which statelessness can be identified (e.g. partial SDPs with no status/rights attached, residence permit or naturalisation applications, refugee status determination, ad hoc procedures, etc.), or other routes through which stateless people could regularise their stay and/or access their rights (answer Question SDS.3.b. and proceed to Question 10a). 3. There is a dedicated statelessness status but no formal procedure for determining this (answer Question	UNHCR, Handbook on Protection (2014): It is implicit in the 1954 Convention that States must identify stateless persons to provide them appropriate treatment to comply with their Convention commitments. UNHCR, Good Practices Papers — Action 6 (2020): Establishing a statelessness determination procedure is the most efficient means for States Parties to identify beneficiaries of the Convention.	2.

Detention

Item Subtheme	Question	International Norms & Good Practice	Answer	Source
DET.1.a Immigratio detention	Please provide a brief overview of whether immigration detention powers are provided for in law and applied in practice, and whether alternatives to detention are considered. Please provide the legal source(s) and, if available, refer to other publications and sources of information about the law, policy, and practice on immigration detention.	International Norms & Good Practice ICCPR: Article 9 ECHR: Article 5 EU Return Directive: Article 15 UNHCR, Handbook on Protection (2014): Detention is a measure of last resort and can only be justified where other less invasive or coercive measures have been considered and found insufficient. UN General Assembly (2009): Calls upon all States to adopt alternative measures to detention. HRC, Report of the Special Rapporteur (2012): The obligation to always consider alternatives before resorting to detention should be established by law. International Detention Coalition (2015): Immigration detention should be used only as a last resort in exceptional cases after all other options have been shown to be inadequate in the individual case.	Detention can be decided by the Immigration Police for the purpose of expulsion, or by the Ministry of the Interior (if the person is an asylum-seeker) and there is a risk of non-respect of alternative measures. This risk is justified mainly by violation of provisions of Czech law in the past (violation of immigration law-irregular status, illegal entry, previous non-respect of expulsion decision, previous non-respect of alternative measures, violation of other Czech laws - criminal record, threat to security or public order) etc. There is a need to assess whether alternatives to detention would be effective in each individual case, but the authorities do not have to exhaust those alternatives prior to detention. In practice, the police justify the ineffectiveness of alternative measures by the risk of non-respect of the removal decision (with regard to the violation of Czech immigration laws in the past, the level of integration, official address where the person is registered, etc.) For asylum-seekers detained for transfer under the Dublin procedure, the detention condition is a risk of absconding. The risk of absconding is justified mainly if the person has previously stayed irregularly on the territory, has not accepted in the past the transfer decision or has tried to abscond, has expressed the intention not to leave the country or if this intention is obvious from their behaviour. Risk of absconding is also justifiable when the country responsible for the applicant is not a neighbour State and the asylum seeker cannot legally travel to that State or has not given any address of stay on the Czech territory. Authorities have to consider all alternatives to detention in each individual case prior to rendering a decision to detain. Alternatives vary for persons detained for removal (or Dublin transfer) and for detained asylum-seekers. For people subject to removal or transfer (according to $123b of Immigration Act): - selection of the address where the person is required to stay (for check-ups) - bail	Articles 124 - 129 of Act No. 326/1999 Coll. of the Immigration Act) (CZE) Article 46a of Asylum Act, no. 325/1999 coll. Statelessness or impossibility to return a person constitutes an obstacle to removal. Therefore, it can be a relevant argument (in court). The primary focus is nevertheless on the possibility of return, not on statelessness. In practice, it often takes a long time before the impossibility to remove the person because of statelessness is established, while the person is in detention. It is possible to apply for determination of statelessness from detention. The application is made in writing to the Ministry of the Interior with the help of the lawyer present in the detention centre. DET.2.b		Is there a definition of vulnerability in law? If yes, does it explicitly include statelessness? If not, please note whether statelessness is considered to be a factor increasing vulnerability.	PICUM, Preventing and Addressing Vulnerabilities in Immigration Enforcement Policies (2021): Statelessness should be explicitly included in the definition of vulnerability. Vulnerability should always be determined and assessed on an individual basis.	There is a definition of vulnerability in the Asylum Act. There is no mention of statelessness. Statelessness is not considered to be a vulnerability factor - neither in the context of immigration detention, nor for the purpose of detention of asylum-seekers. No special treatment for stateless persons is provided for in law. According to Asylum Act: a vulnerable person means especially an unaccompanied minor, a parent or family with a minor child or a parent or family with a minor child with a medical disability, a person over 65 years of age, a person with a medical disability or a serious illness, a pregnant woman, a victim of human trafficking or a person that has suffered torture or rape or been subjected to serious forms of mental, physical or sexual violence,	Section 2, i) of Asylum Act, no. 325/1999 coll. (in force since 2 August 2021) (CZE)
DET.2.c		Are individual vulnerability assessments carried out before a decision to detain (or soon after)?	ENS, Protecting Stateless Persons From Arbitrary Detention (2015): Arbitrary and disproportionately lengthy detention can ensue when the particular vulnerabilities of stateless people are not addressed. EU Return Directive: Article 16(3) EU Return Handbook (2017): Attention should be paid to the specific situation of stateless persons. Council of the European Union, Guidelines to promote and protect the enjoyment of all human rights by LGBTI persons (2013): European entities should assess the situation of LGBTI persons in detention. PICUM, Preventing and Addressing Vulnerabilities in Immigration Enforcement Policies (2021): There should be a clear legal obligation to screen and assess individuals' vulnerability before a decision to detain is taken and before individuals are placed into situations of deprivation or restriction of liberty.	Vulnerability is assessed only in the context of detention of asylum seekers by the Ministry of the Interior. In the context of immigration detention, which is decided by the Immigration Police, the law does not provide for any relevance of individual vulnerability for the decision-making on detention and in practice no vulnerability assessment is carried out. Statelessness is not considered to be a vulnerability factor - neither in the context of immigration detention, nor for the purpose of detention of asylum-seekers. No special treatment for stateless persons is provided for in law.	Section 124 et seq. of the Act on Residence of Foreign Nationals in the Czech Republic no. 326/1999 Sb. DET.2.d		Are stateless people detained in practice?	As above.	Yes. In practice, no assessment of statelessness is done by authorities prior to rendering a detention decision. Therefore, statelessness often comes out later when the person is detained. However, even a recognised stateless person can be detained because they can be (in theory) removed according to law.	§121 of Act on Residence of Foreign Nationals in the Czech Republic no. 326/1999 Sb. DET.3.a	Procedural safeguards	Are there adequate procedural safeguards in place for individuals in immigration detention (e.g. maximum period of detention, automatic release at the end, decisions in writing, regular periodic reviews, judicial oversight, legal aid, etc.)?	ICCPR: Article 9(4) ECHR: Article 5(4) EU Return Directive: Articles 12, 13 and 15(5) HRC, Report of the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention (2010): A maximum period of detention must be established by law and upon expiry the detainee must be automatically released. CMW, General comment No. 5 (2021): States parties are obligated to adopt legislative and other measures, allocate adequate resources, and provide relevant training to comply with the CMW. There should be a maximum period for immigration detention established in legislation, with automatic release at the end of that period, and which precludes re-detention. States should also be aware that stateless persons find themselves in a vulnerable situation, given that consular assistance and protection are unavailable due to their status. UNHCR, Detention Guidelines (2012): To guard against arbitrariness, maximum periods of detention should be set in national law.	The maximum time limit is 180 days. This period can be further prolonged if the person or the country of origin do not cooperate but cannot exceed in total 545 days. For families with children, foreigners under 18 years of age and unaccompanied minors it is 90 days. For asylum seekers, it is 120 days. The police must always examine if the reasons for detention are lasting. The detention must be ended without undue delay if there is no reason to detain anymore, the court annulled the decision of detention, the person was granted asylum or subsidiary protection, or the person was granted a long-term residence permit with the purpose of protection on the territory. No special application for release from detention is needed. The police must render a decision to detain in 48 hours after arrest. In this decision it must set out the legal basis for detention with reasoning, the initial duration of detention with regard to the steps necessary to conduct the removal. If the person applied for asylum in detention, the ministry has a possibility to render a decision to detain (maximum after 5 days from asylum application). The Ministry must set out the initial duration of detention.	Article 125 of Act on Residence of Foreign Nationals in the Czech Republic no. 326/1999 Sb. 			Detaining stateless persons when there is no real prospect of removal would render the detention arbitrary, and the detained stateless person must therefore be immediately released. ENS, Protecting Stateless Persons From Arbitrary Detention (2015): State parties to the 1954 Convention have an obligation to provide stay rights to stateless people who have been released from detention. Equal Rights Trust, Guidelines (2012): Released stateless detainees should be provided with appropriate documentation and stay rights suitable to their situation.
DET.4.b		If the purpose of detention cannot be fulfilled and the person is released, what legal status and rights are provided to them in law?	CJEU, Kadzoev, C-357/09 PPU (2009): After the maximum period of detention has expired, the person must be released immediately. A lack of valid documentation or inability to support themselves should not be a deterrent to release. Equal Rights Trust, Guidelines (2012): Released stateless detainees should be provided with appropriate documentation and stay rights suitable to their situation.	In principle no legal status is granted on release, the person is given a one-month departure order visa, in practice for 30 days even if the person does not hold any travel document. However, this is not a long-term solution and after 30 days the person is in limbo again. The law does not currently provide any legal possibility of obtaining a status or identification document if the person cannot be returned.	Practice of the Immigration Police - no legal provision. DET.5.a	Return and readmission agreements	Is statelessness considered a juridically relevant fact in any bilateral readmission and/or return agreements?	UNHCR, Handbook on Protection (2014): Efforts to secure admission or readmission may be justified but these need to take place subsequent to a determination of statelessness. UNCRC, MKAH v Switzerland, no 95/2019 (2021): The State in which a stateless child applies for international protection has an obligation under Article 7 CRC to consider whether, if the child was returned to another country, their right to a nationality would be fulfilled (as well as other rights under the CRC).	The Czech Republic mostly implements EU Readmission Agreements where stateless persons are considered (for ex. Readmission Agreement with Serbia or Ukraine). As for the bilateral agreements, statelessness is generally considered – a procedure to determine nationality or statelessness is considered in some bilateral agreements (e.g. the agreement with Kosovo), in most of them, there are paragraphs for readmission of third country nationals including stateless persons (Poland – 65/2013, Romania- 148/1994, Moldavia 117/2004, etc.). The only bilateral agreement that does not mention stateless persons at all is the one with Vietnam (26/2008).	Agreement between the Czech Republic and the Republic of Kosovo on the readmission of persons residing without authorisation, no. 12/2013- safeguards for persons born on the territory of ex-Yugoslavia, interviews to determine nationality etc.

PRS.1.a	Naturalisation	In what timeframe do stateless people who are residing on the territory acquire the right to apply for naturalisation, and how does this compare to others with a foreign nationality?	1954 Convention: Article 32 UNHCR, Good Practices Papers – Action 6 (2020): It is recommended that States Parties facilitate, as far as possible, the naturalisation of stateless persons. COE Committee of Ministers, Recommendation No. R (99) 18 (1999): Each State should facilitate the acquisition of its nationality by stateless persons lawfully and habitually resident on its territory. ENS (2013): The main benchmark is if there is any preferential treatment for stateless people compared to the general rules applied to those with a foreign nationality.	Generally, it is possible to apply for naturalisation only after five years of permanent residence (which can be gained after five years of stay based on visas and long-term stay). If a stateless person holds a permanent residence permit, a special provision states that the requirement of five years of permanent residence can be lifted (at the discretion of the Ministry).	Section 14 Act on Citizenship (ENG) Section 15 of Czech Citizenship Act (available in English on the official website of Ministry of the Interior)
PRS.1.b		Are there requirements relating to 'good character' or previous criminal convictions that could prevent some stateless people from naturalising? If yes, please describe.	CoE Committee of Ministers, Recommendation No. R (99) 18 (1999): States should ensure that offences, when relevant for the decision concerning the acquisition of nationality, do not unreasonably prevent stateless persons seeking the nationality of a state.	Yes. Czech nationality cannot be obtained if the individual has a previous criminal record.	Section 13 and 14 of Czech Citizenship Act (available in English on the official website of Ministry of the Interior)
PRS.1.c		Are there exemptions for stateless people from any nationality or integration test, language, income or fee requirements for naturalisation? Please describe the requirements and cost of the procedure for stateless adults and children, and any direct or indirect barriers to naturalisation caused by discriminatory laws, policies, or practices.	1954 Convention: Article 32 UNHCR, Good Practices Papers — Action 6 (2020): It is recommended that States Parties facilitate, as far as possible, the naturalisation of stateless persons. COE Committee of Ministers, Recommendation No. R (99) 18 (1999): Each State should facilitate the acquisition of its nationality by stateless persons lawfully and habitually resident on its territory. UNHCR, Background Note on Discrimination in Nationality Laws and Statelessness (2021): States should remove or amend discriminatory legal provisions, rules, policies, or practices that directly or indirectly act as barriers to naturalisation.	Yes. In addition to the facilitation in residence requirements, there is also a possibility to exempt a stateless person from the condition that an applicant for naturalisation must not be a burden on the social security system. Both of these exemptions also apply to refugees. Other conditions for naturalisation apply to stateless people, including: - knowledge of Czech language (exemptions for people under 15 and over 65, mentally disabled, or if they have studied in Czech for at least 3 years) - citizenship test (Czech constitution, history, geography, with the same exceptions as above) - proof of revenue for the last 3 years - no criminal record Regarding the fees, the application itself is free. In case of a positive answer a fee must be paid: 2000 CZK for adults and 500 CZK for minors and refugees. Upon discretion of the Ministry, the fee can be reduced to 500 CZK in exceptional cases and to 100 CZK for minors and refugees. There is no mention of stateless persons, but they can fall into the category of exceptional cases. Unless both parents are stateless, children born stateless in the Czech Republic face additional indirect barriers in acquiring Czech nationality, which requires an application procedure, proving that at least one parent has a residence permit longer than 90 days, and that the parents have taken the necessary steps for the child to acquire a nationality (see details in PRS.2). At least one of the parents must have legal residence, which is at least temporary residence on the Czech territory of more than 90 days, at the time of the child's birth. ENS, No Child Should Be Stateless (2015): Closing the window of opportunity to apply for a nationality has the effect of leaving it in the hands of parents to take the necessary steps to secure a nationality for their child.	No limit. A person can apply to the competent authority (by place of birth) any time. There is a fee for making the application. If it is filed by a minor the fee is CZK 500 but can be reduced to CZK 100. If the application is filed by an adult the fee is CZK 2,000 but can be reduced to CZK 500. UNHCR, Guidelines on Statelessness No. 4 (2012): Where the nationality of the parents can be acquired through a registration or other procedure, this will be impossible owing to the very nature of refugee status which precludes refugee parents from contacting their consular authorities.	Yes. RES.1.a	Published judgments	Please list the most relevant judgments relating to statelessness and include links to the cases (where available).		Case regarding status of stateless determination applicants. They should be granted legal status during the procedure. The Ministry cannot choose some provisions of the Asylum Act to apply (such as time limits for decision-making) and not others. The applicant should get a certificate of application that grants them a right to stay on the territory in the same way as for asylum seekers (with access to healthcare and other services). Non-action of the state (in this case the refusal to give any legal status to the applicant - certificate of application) is contrary to their right to private and family life. Supreme Administrative Court decision no. 9 Azs 361/2017 from 19 April 2018 regarding expulsion of stateless persons Before rendering a removal decision (administrative expulsion) of a stateless person, the state must verify its compliance with the 1954 Convention, in particular with Article 31. The provision in the Czech Act on the Residence of Foreigners in its Section 121 (regulating expulsion of stateless persons when the receiving country agrees) does not apply in this case because of dissimilarity of this provision with the relevant provisions of the Convention, which has priority over the provisions of national law. Detention of an applicant for statelessness status was an unlawful act The court officially states that applicants for statelessness status cannot be detained because they are lawfully staying on the territory.	Supreme Administrative Court (Nejvyšší správní soud) case no. 4 Azs 365/2018-74 from 12 March 2019 Supreme Administrative Court decision no. 9 Azs 361/2017 from 19 April 2018
				Stateless persons to be allowed in accommodation centres for asylum seekers - "Not admitting applicants for status of a stateless person to an asylum seekers' accommodation centre is an unlawful action" - "The (Ministry) is hereby prohibited to continue the breach of applicants' right to housing in accommodation centre, and the (Ministry) is also ordered to enable the applicants' to use housing in the accommodation centre until the entry in force of their decision on application for a status of a stateless person" Supreme Administrative Court judgment regarding detention and reasonable prospects for removal. Statelessness might be an obstacle for removal. Authorities must consider if the person can be removed before rendering a detention decision, taking into account their possible statelessness. However, the authority does not have to determine for sure to which state the person can be removed. Damages claim	Unlawful Action claim, Municipal Court in Prague, decision no. 14 A 8/2020 from 14 September 2020 Unlawful Action claim, Municipal Court in Prague, no. 5 A 168/2019 from 26 October 2020 (link not yet available)

				Damages won in first instance for immaterial harm (delays in procedure) and for detention of a stateless person
				Access to healthcare The court ruled that not accepting the applicant for statelessness determination to the public health insurance system was unlawful action against his rights. They should be insured in the same way as asylum-seekers. "It is decided that the action of the accused party (Public Health Insurance of the Czech Republic) consisting in not allowing him into the system of public health care, was unlawful". The Public Health Insurance appealed to the High Administrative court, refusing to accept this decision. The case is still pending at Supreme Administrative Court.	Supreme Administrative Court, case no. 1 Azs 283/2017 from 22 November 2017
				The analogy with the asylum procedure Shortly after the 2021 amendment which moved the statelessness determination from the Asylum Act to the Immigration Act came into force, the court ruled there is the necessity of preserving the	Prague 7 District Court, No. 12 C 2/2019 (not published yet)
				analogy with the asylum procedure, regardless of whether the statelessness procedure is formally regulated under the Asylum Act or the Immigration Act.	Municipal Court in Prague, (case no. 14 A 131/2020) (not published yet)
				Burden of proof The burden of proof in the statelessness procedure should be shared as it is in the asylum procedure. The court has ruled that the MOI should conduct steps towards verification of applicants' claims as the MOI is doing so in the asylum procedure.	Decision of Municipal Court Prague, 26 January 2022, Nr. 10 A 98/2021-45
				International obligations of CZ & Burden of proof II Even though the determination of statelessness was moved from the Asylum Act to the Immigration Act the rights under the asylum procedure should be still preserved – therefore the burden of proof should be divided between the applicant and MOI as it is in the asylum procedure.	Decision of Municipal court in Prague, 28 July 2022, n. 10 A 53/2021-37
				The court ruled, similar to the judgment above, the MOI should use its apparatus to determine whether the applicant is stateless or not. The court suggested the MOI should get information on the nationality of the applicant on its own. The judgment is linked to UNHCR guidance as well.	Decision of Municipal court in Prague, 23 August 2022, n. 57 A 119/2021-38
				The right to ID & the right to remain on the territory The court ruled that even though the applicant has any kind of ID (in this case an ID of a non-Latvian citizen) the MOI must issue the ID of the stateless applicant that is also serving as proof of residence status of the stateless applicant. According to the court, there should be an analogy between the asylum seekers' and the stateless applicants' rights to obtain an ID and to remain on the territory.	Decision of the Supreme Administrative Court, 27 September 2022, n. 2 Azs 40/2022-35
