Stateless Population Data

Item	Subtheme	Question	International Norms & Good Practice	Answer	Source
POP.1.a	Availability and sources	Does the Government have a 'stateless' category in its data collection systems (e.g. census)? Please list available figures for the total stateless population on the territory and describe how data is disaggregated (e.g. by sex, age, residence).	Gen. Rec. 32, CEDAW: States parties should gather, analyse and make available sex-disaggregated statistical data and trends. Council of the European Union (2015): Recognise the importance of exchanging good practices among Member States concerning the collection of reliable data on stateless persons as well as the procedures for determining statelessness. UNHCR (2014): Improve quantitative and qualitative data on stateless populations. Institute on Statelessness and Inclusion (2014): States should strengthen measures to count stateless persons on their territory.	The last official statistics are provided in the results of the 2002 national census published in May 2005, which included 'persons without nationality' as a category (total: 17,652). However, the 2002 census did not include those whose births/personal names were never registered in the Birth Registry Records, which is one of the reasons for the discrepancies between official and unofficial numbers for persons at risk of statelessness. Census data is disaggregated by ethnicity.	Republic of North Macedonia, State Statistical Office (available at: http://www.stat.gov.mk/Publikacii/kni galX.pdf, p. 591)
POP.1.b		Do government authorities define data categories that may overlap (e.g. unknown nationality) or where stateless people might be more highly represented (e.g. Palestinian)? Please explain and provide any available figures.	As above	Yes. For internal use, the Ministry of Interior uses the category 'unknown nationality', and the category 'persons with unregulated nationality' is also used. The majority of people in this category have unregistered birth or personal name. All were born in the country. Government-led actions to identify people with unregistered births and personal names have taken place in 2011 and again in 2018-19. 441 people not registered in the Birth Registry Records were identified in 2011. 750 people presented themselves to the authorities during the 2018-19 action.	Information obtained during an interview conducted with an official at the Ministry of Interior, Foreigners' Section. Information on the Ministry of Labour and Social Policy website about the 2011 action: http://www.mtsp.gov.mk/akcija-za-evidencija-na-lica-vo-maticna-kniga-na-rodenite.nspx (MK) Statement of the Minister of Labour and Social Policy, Премиерот Заев на дебатата на тема "Системски решенија за регистрација на лицата без документи": Во општество еднакво за сите, секој мора да има еднаков пристап до сервисите и услугите на државата, (Systemic solutions for registration of persons without documentation): https://vlada.mk/node/15918 (MK)
POP.1.c		What is UNHCR's estimate for the stateless/at risk of statelessness population and what is the source for this estimate?	As above	The caseload of beneficiaries at risk of statelessness as of December 2020 is 558 persons of whom 286 have 'unregulated nationality' (Macedonian nationals but births/names are not registered in civil registry); 272 'undetermined Macedonian nationality' (long-term habitual residents such as those residing in the Republic of North Macedonia after dissolution of SFRY or their children born in N. Macedonia, facing the problem of unregulated Macedonian nationality).	Casework information from UNHCR supported project 'Prevention and Reduction of Statelessness', implemented by the Macedonian Young Lawyers Association (MYLA)
POP.1.d		Have there been any surveys or mapping studies to estimate the stateless population in the country?	As above	As part of a project implemented between February 2008 and March 2011 aiming to reduce the number of people lacking registration or identity documents, raise awareness about the importance of civil registration, and provide legal aid, UNHCR conducted a survey, which covered 70% of the territory and reached 13,770 Roma, Ashkali and Egyptians. It found that many lacked personal documentation, birth and/or personal name registration, or had unregulated legal residence or nationality.	UNHCR Representation in the Republic of North Macedonia: http://www.unhcr.org/pages/49e48d8 f6.html
POP.1.e		Are there any other sources of estimates for the stateless population not covered by the above? Please list sources and figures.	As above	No.
POP.1.f		Are there issues with the reliability of data or indications that the stateless population may be over/under reported? If yes, please describe.	As above	There are issues with reliability since government-led actions have not necessarily been systematic and left many potential areas where people at risk of statelessness reside uncovered. 70% of people identified by the government in 2011 had already been identified in the previous survey conducted by UNHCR and partners. The numbers of 750 people identified in 2018-19 constitute those who voluntarily registered themselves. MYLA considers that there are other people who	Macedonian Young Lawyers Association were unable to register themselves. Census data is outdated as no census has been carried out since 2002. Initiatives to quantify (risk of) statelessness have focused only on Roma, Ashkali and Egyptian communities and only covered 70% of the country. The remaining 30% is mostly rural, so people at risk of statelessness may not have yet been identified. The Law Changing and Amending the Law on Citizenship in 2004 introduced a new transitional provision facilitating the naturalisation of those who were habitually resident in the country prior to the dissolution of SFRY. The 2002 census did not capture this population. Roma NGOs estimate the number of people at risk of statelessness to be higher than official figures.	1.6

Statelessness Determination and Status

Item	Subtheme	Question	International Norms & Good Practice	Answer	Source
SDS.1.a	Definition of a stateless person	Is there a definition of a stateless person in national law? Do the definition and exclusion provisions align with the 1954 Convention? Please provide details.	UN Convention Relating to the Status of Stateless Persons, 1954: Articles 1(1) & 1(2).	Yes, there is a definition of a stateless person in Macedonian law, which states that: 'a 'foreigner' is a person who is not a national of the Republic of North Macedonia as well as a stateless person, meaning a person who is not considered as a national by any state under the operation of its law'.	Law on Foreigners, Official Gazette of the Republic of North Macedonia N.97/2018, Art. 2: https://mvr.gov.mk/Upload/Document s/Zakon%20za%20stranci%2097-18.pdf (MK)
SDS.1.b	Training	Is there training to inform different government bodies about statelessness? If yes, please provide details (e.g. who provides training to whom/how often?)	UNHCR Executive Committee (2006): Requests UNHCR to actively disseminate information and, where appropriate, train government counterparts on appropriate mechanisms for identifying, recording, and granting a status to stateless persons.	Training is provided for governmental bodies by UNHCR and MYLA. The trainings are organised on an ad hoc basis, based on the needs of the institutions (e.g. training on implementation of a new law, etc).	MYLA practice.
SDS.1.c		Is there training for judges and lawyers on statelessness? If yes, please provide details (e.g. provider, frequency).	UNHCR (2016): Officials who may be in contact with stateless persons need to be trained to identify potential applicants for stateless status and refer them to appropriate channels. UNHCR (2010): It is recommended that States provide specialised training on nationality laws and practices, international standards and statelessness to officials responsible for making statelessness determinations.	There is no training for judges. MYLA and UNHCR provide training to lawyers and NGOs. The trainings are project-based, thus organised on an ad hoc basis. MYLA trains its lawyers and attorneys as well as NGOs working with high school students and Roma.	MYLA practice.
SDS.1.d	Existence of a dedicated SDP	Which of the following best describes the situation in your country? Choose only one and then proceed to question indicated. 1. There is a dedicated statelessness determination procedure (SDP) established in law, administrative guidance, or judicial procedure, leading to a dedicated stateless status (proceed to Question 2a). 2. There is no dedicated SDP leading to a dedicated SDP leading to a dedicated stateless status, but there are other procedures in which statelessness can be identified (e.g. partial SDPs with no status/rights attached, residence permit or naturalisation applications, refugee status determination, ad hoc procedures, etc.), or other routes through which stateless people could regularise their stay and/or access their rights (proceed to Question 10a). 3. There is a dedicated stateless status but no formal procedure for determining this (proceed to Question 16a).	UNHCR (2014): It is implicit in the 1954 Convention that States must identify stateless persons to provide them appropriate treatment to comply with their Convention commitments. UNHCR (2016): Establishing a statelessness determination procedure is the most efficient means for States Parties to identify beneficiaries of the Convention.	Group 2
SDS.10.a	Procedures in which statelessness can be identified and other routes to	If there is no dedicated SDP leading to a stateless status, are there any procedures in which statelessness can be identified (e.g. partial SDPs with no status/rights attached,	ENS (2013): For SDPs to be effective, the determination must be a specific objective of the mechanism in question, though not necessarily the only one. Hoti v. Croatia ECtHR (2018): [the State has a] positive obligation to provide an effective and accessible procedure or a	Under the amended Law on Foreigners, which came into force in 2019, a person (and their children under five) who held citizenship of the former Yugoslavia and remained on the territory of North Macedonia since 1991 without acquiring the nationality of any other country may apply for permanent residence. If no, proceed to question 10b.	the applicant to have the issues of [their] further stay and status determined.	Other stateless people may regularise their stay and obtain a temporary residence permit on humanitarian grounds as a 'foreigner', at the discretion of the Government. Statelessness may be identified and recorded during international protection procedures, but there is no clear procedure for this, and this is not regulated by law.	N.97/2018, Art. 71 paragraph 1: https://mvr.gov.mk/Upload/Document s/Zakon%20za%20stranci%2097- 18.pdf (MK) MYLA practice.
SDS.10.b		Are there any other routes through which stateless people could regularise their stay and/or access their rights without their statelessness being identified or determined? If yes, please describe these and then proceed to question 14a. If no, proceed to question 15a.	UN Convention Relating to the Status of Stateless Persons, 1954 UNHCR (2014): It is implicit in the 1954 Convention that States must identify stateless persons to provide them appropriate treatment to comply with their Convention commitments.	Yes, under the new 'Law on Persons without regulated civil status', people who do not possess any personal documentation can register for a 'special registration', which provides access to social, health and employment rights. This new law only applies to individuals identified to be without personal documents in a Government-led public call conducted in 2018 (see PRS.6.a.), and to children born after the closure of the public call who do not fulfil the conditions for birth registration under the Law on Records of Births, Deaths and Marriages.	MYLA, Regulating the status of persons not registered in the Register of Births, https://myla.org.mk/7859-2/?lang=en Law on Persons without Regulated Civil Status, https://myla.org.mk/wp-content/uploads/2021/03/Zakon-zaneevidentirani-lica-Feb-2020.pdf (MK)
		Please provide details on how statelessness may be identified in other procedures.	UNHCR (2016): Efficient referral mechanisms should be established, while officials who may be in contact with stateless persons need to be trained to identify potential applicants for statelessness status and refer them to appropriate channels.	Under the Law on Foreigners: Documentary evidence from the person and their parents is usually required, and decisions are made on a case-by-case basis. The Ministry of Interior carries out checks with neighbouring countries to see if the person is a national of another former Yugoslav republic. If not, they request a certificate of non-conviction in North Macedonia and proof of accommodation and financial support. If stay is regularised and the person granted a temporary residence permit, they can apply for facilitated naturalisation after six years of continuous legal residence, but there are other conditions that need to be met in law and practice. Private health insurance is required. Police checks on foreigners are also conducted.	Law on Foreigners, Official Gazette of the Republic of North Macedonia N.97/2018, Art. 120: https://mvr.gov.mk/Upload/Document s/Zakon%20za%20stranci%2097- 18.pdf (MK)
SDS.11.a	Access to procedures (Group 2)			Under the Law on Persons without Regulated Civil Status: The law only applies to individuals identified to be without personal documents in a Government-led public call conducted in 2018 (see PRS.6.a.), and to children born after the closure of the public call. The person must be registered with the Ministry of Justice as a person without regulated civil status. Following an administrative procedure with all available evidence, the person is issued with a 'special registration', which enables them to obtain a special PIN number to access socio-economic rights. This procedure does not guarantee access to nationality. In the Asylum Procedure: If a person states that they are stateless, they	MYLA, Regulating the status of persons not registered in the Register of Births, https://myla.org.mk/7859-2/?lang=en Law on Persons without Regulated Civil Status, https://myla.org.mk/wp-content/uploads/2021/03/Zakon-zaneevidentirani-lica-Feb-2020.pdf (MK) will be registered as 'stateless person born in [country of birth]' in their asylum application and asylum identity card. If granted asylum, the decision will note that '[name] born in [country of birth], stateless person is granted international protection'. This is not regulated in law but is part of the registration form for the asylum application.	IVITEA practice.
SDS.11.b		Are there obligations in law on authorities to consider a claim of statelessness made within another procedure?	UNHCR (2016): Access to the procedure must be guaranteed.	There is no such obligation in the existing legal framework.
SDS.11.c		Are there clear, accessible instructions for stateless people on how to claim their rights under the 1954 Convention and/or be identified as stateless?	UNHCR (2014): For procedures to be fair and efficient, access must be ensured (dissemination of info, targeted info campaigns, counselling on the procedures, etc.). UNHCR (2016): Information on the procedure and counselling services must be available to potential applicants in a language they understand.	There are no clear accessible instructions.

			UN Convention Relating to the Status of Stateless Persons, 1954
SDS.11.d		Is the examination and/or identification of statelessness conducted by a centralised body with relevant expertise? Please note the competent authority and evaluate appropriateness to national context.	UNHCR (2014): States may choose between a centralised procedure or one that is conducted by local authorities. Centralised procedures are preferable as they are more likely to develop the necessary expertise. UNHCR (2016): It is important that examiners develop expertise while ensuring that the procedures are accessible.	The procedure under the Law on Foreigners is conducted by the police who deal with foreigners. They do not have special expertise in dealing with stateless persons. The procedure under the Law on Persons without Regulated Civil Status is conducted by employees of the civil registry department within the ministry of Justice, who are not specialised in working with persons without personal documentation.	Law on Foreigners, Official Gazette of the Republic of North Macedonia N.97/2018, https://mvr.gov.mk/Upload/Document s/Zakon%20za%20stranci%2097-18.pdf (MK) MYLA, Regulating the status of persons not registered in the Register of Births, https://myla.org.mk/7859-2/?lang=en
SDS.11.e		Is there cooperation between agencies that may have contact with stateless people?	UNHCR (2016): Cooperation between actors working on statelessness and the various government agencies involved in determining statelessness is good practice.	There is no centralised cooperation between agencies.	MYLA practice.
SDS.12.a	Assessment (Group 2)	Who has the burden of proof when determining or identifying statelessness (in law and practice)?	UNHCR (2014): The burden of proof is in principle shared (both applicant and examiner must cooperate to obtain evidence and establish the facts). UNHCR (2016): SDPs must take into consideration the difficulties inherent in proving statelessness. UNHCR Expert Meeting (2010): Individuals must cooperate to establish relevant facts. The burden should shift to the State if an individual can demonstrate they are not a national, on the basis of reasonably available evidence. Hoti v. Croatia ECtHR (2018): State has responsibility to at least share the burden of proof with the applicant when establishing the fact of statelessness.	The applicant has the burden of proof and must apply, attend interviews, and provide all necessary documentation to the state officials. Applicants should submit all available documents that can be used the procedure. In the absence of official documents of stay, documents such as medical documentation, school attendance documents etc. can be submitted. The Law on Administrative Procedure obliges state officials to guide and assist people who do not understand the law, but in practice this is not fully implemented.	Law on Administrative Procedure, Article 17: https://www.uvmk.gov.mk/files/zakon i/opsta_upravna_postapka_2015.pdf (MK)
SDS.12.b		What is the standard of proof to evidence statelessness?	UNHCR (2014): States are advised to adopt the same standard of proof as in refugee status determination ('reasonable degree'). Inter-Parliamentary Union (2018) The standard of proof should be in keeping with the humanitarian objectives of statelessness status determination and the inherent difficulties of proving statelessness in the likely absence of documentary evidence. Hoti v. Croatia ECtHR (2018): If statelessness is a relevant factor in the context of access to human rights, the standard of proof when determining the status of statelessness cannot be too high.	The standard of proof to evidence statelessness is unclear.	MYLA practice
SDS.12.c		Is there clear guidance for decision makers on how to identify or determine statelessness (including e.g. sources of evidence and procedures for evidence gathering, etc.)?	ENS (2013): Determining authorities can benefit from concrete guidance that sets clear benchmarks and pathways for the establishment of material facts and circumstances.	There is no clear guidance for decision makers on how to identify or determine statelessness.	MYLA practice
SDS.13.a	Procedural safeguards (Group 2)	Is free legal aid available to stateless people?	UNHCR (2014): Applicants should have access to legal counsel; where free legal assistance is available, it should be offered to applicants without financial means. ENS (2013): If state funded legal aid is available, it should be provided to stateless claimants. If there is no state funded legal aid but asylum claimants can access free legal aid free of charge, the same level of access should be provided to stateless people.	Free legal aid is only available to stateless people who have a residence permit or otherwise have a right to stay, including people who have been registered under the Law on Persons without Regulated Civil Status. SDS.13.b		Do stateless people always have an opportunity to claim their statelessness in an interview (whether the purpose of the interview is to identify statelessness or not?)	UNHCR (2014): The right to an individual interview [is] essential.	Asylum seekers have an official interview during the asylum procedure where they can claim their statelessness. In the procedure to acquire a residence permit under the Law on Foreigners, an interview is not mandatory by law, but in practice applicants are usually called for an interview.	Law on International and Temporary Protection, Article 39 https://www.refworld.org/docid/5b55 e5de4.html

SDS.13.c		Is free interpreting available to stateless people?	UNHCR (2014): The right to assistance with interpretation/translation [is] essential. ENS (2013): Assistance should be available for translation and interpretation.	In the asylum procedure, criminal, or court procedures interpretation and translation is provided by the state. The right to interpretation and translation is not foreseen in the procedure to acquire a residence permit under the Law on Foreigners. SDS.13.d		Are decisions (refusals and grants) given in writing with reasons?	UNHCR (2014): States are encouraged to incorporate the safeguard that decisions are made in writing with reasons.	In all administrative procedures, decisions are given in writing, electronically, or in another appropriate format, with reasons. SDS.14.a	Protection (Group 2)	Are there any rights granted to stateless people on the basis of their statelessness? If yes, please provide details.	UNHCR (2014): The status granted to a stateless person in a State Party must reflect international standards. Although the 1954 Convention does not explicitly require States to grant a person determined to be stateless a right of residence, granting such permission would fulfil the object and purpose of the treaty.	Although there is no statelessness determination procedure nor protection status, there are several provisions in law that provide certain rights or privileges for stateless persons. Under the Law on Foreigners a temporary residence permit on humanitarian grounds may be provided to stateless persons, and a 1954 Convention travel document can be issued to a stateless person who has residence permit. Stateless people who have a residence permit have the right to free legal aid. Stateless people can obtain primary and secondary education. Stateless people may naturalise after a reduced period of six years. SDS.14.b		Are stateless people otherwise able to access their rights under the 1954 Convention? (e.g. right to reside, travel document, work, healthcare, social security, education, housing, family reunification, right to vote, etc.)? Please provide details.	UN Convention Relating to the Status of Stateless Persons, 1954 UNHCR (2014): The status granted to a stateless person in a State Party must reflect international standards. It is recommended that States grant recognised stateless people a residence permit valid for at least two years, although longer permits, such as five years, are preferable in the interests of stability. Permits should be renewable.	A stateless person with a temporary residence permit may in some (very few) cases access employment while the permit is valid; they have access to a travel document, and education. A stateless person married to a Macedonian national and holding a valid residence permit as proof of their identity and legal residence has access to public healthcare based on marriage. Stateless persons who have permanent residence can receive social security and have the right to work. The right to family reunification is not regulated specifically for stateless persons, but all foreigners with legal stay can apply for family reunification (spouse and minor children, or exceptionally parents and adult children). Stateless people do not have the right to vote in any elections. SDS.15.a	Access to nationality (Group 2)	In what timeframe do stateless people acquire the right to apply for naturalisation and how does this compare to others with a foreign nationality? Please describe the procedure and note whether this is facilitated for stateless people (e.g. exemption from nationality/language tests, fee waiver).	UN Convention Relating to the Status of Stateless Persons, 1954: Article 32 UNHCR (2016): It is recommended that States Parties facilitate, as far as possible, the naturalisation of stateless persons. Council of Europe Committee of Ministers (1999): Each State should facilitate the acquisition of its nationality by stateless persons lawfully and habitually resident on its territory. ENS (2013): The main benchmark is if there is any preferential treatment for stateless people compared to the general rules applied to those with a foreign nationality.	A stateless person can obtain Macedonian nationality by naturalisation after six years of legal and permanent residence in the country and if they can fulfil the remaining conditions of Article 7 of the Law on Citizenship. There are no exemptions from other requirements for stateless people (these include proof of birth registration and a certificate of nonconviction/prosecution). SDS.15.b		Are there requirements relating to 'good character' or previous criminal convictions that could prevent some stateless people from accessing nationality? If yes, please describe. [Section complete, proceed to DET]	Council of Europe Committee of Ministers (1999): States should ensure that offences, when relevant for the decision concerning the acquisition of nationality, do not unreasonably prevent stateless persons seeking the nationality of a state. DET.1.a	Detention screening	Are immigration detention powers provided for in law? Please provide the legal source(s).	ICCPR Article 9(1) ECHR Article 5 (1)	The Law on Foreigners and the Law on Border Control constitute the legal framework for immigration detention in North Macedonia. The "Rulebook for the Reception Centre for Foreigners" supplements the legal mandate for the detention centre and provides operating rules. DET.1.b		Does domestic law allow immigration detention for purposes other than those listed under ECHR 5(1)(f)?	ECHR Article 5(1)(f)	No, immigration detention provisions are in line with ECHR 5(1)(f). By law a person can be detained for the purposes of border control procedures and to ensure their deportation. However, recent practice shows that immigration detention may also occur to secure the presence of migrants before the courts as witnesses in people-smuggling cases. DET.1.c		Does a proposed country of removal need to be identified before a person is detained for removal? Please describe the situation in law and in practice.	ICCPR Article 7: Repeated attempts to expel a person to a country that refuses to admit them could amount to inhuman or degrading treatment. Auad v Bulgaria ECtHR (2011): The only issue is whether the authorities were sufficiently diligent in their efforts to deport the applicant. EU Returns Directive: Any detention shall only be maintained as long as removal arrangements are in progress and executed with due diligence.	No, there is no such requirement prescribed by law and it is not clear whether this happens in practice.
DET.1.d		Is statelessness juridically relevant in decisions to detain? Please describe how (risk of) statelessness is identified and whether referral to an SDP is possible from detention.	Auad v Bulgaria ECtHR (2011) Mikolenko v. Estonia ECtHR (2009): Detention may only be justified as long as deportation proceedings are being conducted with due diligence. UNHCR (2014): Routine detention of individuals seeking protection on the grounds of statelessness is arbitrary. Equal Rights Trust (2012): States must identify stateless persons within their territory or subject to their jurisdiction as a first step towards ensuring the protection of their human rights. International Commission of Jurists (2014): The detention of stateless persons can never be justified when there is no active or realistic progress towards transfer to another State.	No.

DET.1.f		Does law (and/or policy) provide that immigration detention should be used only as a last resort, after all alternatives have been exhausted in each individual case?	UNHCR (2014): Detention is a measure of last resort and can only be justified where other less invasive or coercive measures have been considered and found insufficient. EU Returns Directive: Article 15(1)	No, there is no such requirement prescribed by law.	11

Please note whether statelessness is considered to be a factor increasing vulnerability.	disproportionately lengthy detention can ensue when the particular vulnerabilities of stateless people are not addressed. Council of the European Union (2013): European entities should assess the situation of LGBTI persons in detention.	perform a vulnerability assessment prior to the decision to detain. However, in practice some sort of assessment is carried out on entering detention.
DET.2.a	Alternatives to detention	Are alternatives to detention established in law and considered prior to any decision to detain?	ICCPR Article 9 FKAG v Australia HRC (2013): Any decision relating to detention must consider less invasive means of achieving the same ends. UN General Assembly (2009): Calls upon all States to adopt alternative measures to detention. UNHCR (2014): Detention can only be justified where other less invasive or coercive measures have been considered and found insufficient. Human Rights Council (2012): The obligation to always consider alternatives before resorting to detention should be established by law. EU Returns Directive: Article 15(1) Equal Rights Trust (2012): States have an obligation to consider and apply appropriate and viable alternatives to immigration detention that are less coercive and intrusive. International Detention Coalition (2015): Immigration detention should be used only as a last resort in exceptional cases after all other options have been shown to be inadequate in the individual case.	The law prescribes that where a foreigner has ensured means of subsistence and accommodation in the country and their accommodation in the Reception Centre is therefore not deemed necessary, the Ministry of Interior may decide instead to limit their movement within their place of residence with an obligation to report regularly to the nearest police station at a specified time. In practice, according to MYLA's experience, this alternative has never been used. There used to be a 'Safe House' managed by Jesuit Refugee Service on behalf of the Ministry of Labour and Social Policy (MLSP), which served as an alternative to detention for unaccompanied minors and vulnerable families, but this closed in June 2019. The Law on Social Protection provides for accommodation in foster families for exceptional cases. DET.2.b		Is there evidence that immigration detention is used in practice prior to all alternatives being considered?	As above.	No information available.
DET.3.a	Procedural safeguards	Is there a maximum time period for immigration detention set in law? What is it?	UN Human Rights Council (2010): A maximum period of detention must be established by law and upon expiry the detainee must be automatically released. UNHCR (2012): To guard against arbitrariness, maximum periods of detention should be set in national law. EU Returns Directive: Article 15(5) Equal Rights Trust (2012): Detention should always be for the shortest time possible.	For the purpose of an immediate deportation foreigners can be temporarily detained for no longer than 24 hours. Detention decisions must be provided for periods that exceed this length. A foreigner will be temporarily detained in the Reception Centre until the reasons preventing their deportation from the territory of the Republic of North Macedonia cease to exist, but not longer than 12 months. A foreigner can also be temporarily detained in the Reception Centre for Foreigners if there is a decision for expulsion, but the person does not possess a valid or recognised travel document. If the foreigner refuses or is unable to prove their identity, the authorised officers of the Ministry of the Interior may detain them for the purposes of establishing identity for a period not longer than 12 hours. Provided that it is impossible to establish the foreigner's identity within the time limit, the authorised officers shall file a request for initiation of a misdemeanour procedure with the competent court. Based on the court decision on "detention of the foreigner in the Reception Centre", the authorised officers shall detain the foreigner can, upon a decision of a court, be detained in the Reception Centre until information on their identity is supplied.	Law on Foreigners, Official Gazette of the Republic of North Macedonia N.97/2018: https://mvr.gov.mk/Upload/Document s/Zakon%20za%20stranci%2097-18.pdf (MK)
DET.3.b		Does law/policy provide that individuals must be informed in writing of the reasons for their immigration detention?	UN General Assembly (1988): Anyone who is arrested shall be informed at the time of the reason for his arrest. EU Returns Directive: Detention shall be ordered in writing with reasons being given in fact and in law. Equal Rights Trust (2012): Stateless detainees shall receive their order of	Yes, the person shall be issued with the detention decision, which will contain an explanation for the reasons for detention. According to the bylaws, the person should be notified of the content of the decision (or the decision itself) in a language understandable to them. In practice the decisions are issued in Macedonian. DET.3.c		Are detainees provided with information on their rights, contact details of legal advice and support providers, and guidance on how to access an SDP?	Equal Rights Trust (2012): Detaining authorities are urged to provide stateless detainees with a handbook in a language and terms they understand, containing information on all their rights and entitlements, contact details of organisations which are mandated to protect them, NGOs and visiting groups and advice on how to challenge the legality of their detention and their treatment as detainees.	In the case of expulsion or deprivation of liberty, the foreigner concerned shall be informed of their right to legal aid as well as the right to contact the representative of their country in the Republic of North Macedonia. According to MYLA's findings, detainees are not provided with information about their rights, contact details of organisations and the right to appeal the decision in a language they understand. DET.3.d		Are there regular periodic reviews of detention before a court or independent body, which can order release?	Kim v Russia ECtHR (2014): The purpose of Article 5(4) ECHR is to guarantee to persons who are detained the right to judicial supervision of the lawfulness of the measure. Equal Rights Trust (ERT) (2012): To avoid arbitrariness, detention should be subject to automatic, regular and periodic review throughout the period of detention, before a judicial body independent of the detaining authorities.	There is no provision in law for regular periodic review of detention before a court or independent body. According to MYLA's findings, there have been no reviews by judicial or other bodies on the length and necessity of detention. No official information is available. DET.3.e		What remedies are available to challenge detention? Please mention any obstacles to accessing effective remedies in practice.	ICCPR Article 9(4) ECHR: Article 5(4) Kim v Russia ECtHR (2014): The purpose of Article 5(4) ECHR is to guarantee to persons who are detained the right to judicial supervision of the lawfulness of the measure. Alimuradov v. Russia ECtHR (2019): The individual must have at their disposal a procedure for judicial review of the lawfulness of detention capable of leading to release.	The foreigner shall have the right to file an appeal with the State Commission for Decision-Making in Administrative Procedure and Labour Relations Procedure against the decision to detain, within 8 days of receipt of the decision. However, the complaint shall not postpone the execution of the decision. An administrative dispute can be initiated in a competent court against the decision brought by the State Commission. In practice, people in immigration detention are not informed of their rights in a language they understand, they are not notified of the possibility to appeal their detention decision and they are not given contacts for organisations or lawyers that can provide legal assistance. DET.3.f		Are there guidelines in place governing the process of redocumentation and ascertaining entitlement to nationality for the purpose of removal?	Equal Rights Trust (2012): The inability of a stateless person to cooperate with removal proceedings should not be treated as non-cooperation. ENS (2015): The detaining state should have rules in place that govern the process of re-documentation and/or ascertaining entitlement to nationality.	No.
DET.3.g		Is free legal aid available to challenge detention? Please describe any barriers to accessing legal aid in practice.	UNHCR (2014): Judicial oversight of detention is always necessary and detained individuals need to have access to legal representation, including free counselling for those without means. EU Returns Directive: Article 13(3)	According to law, in case a procedure for deprivation of liberty is initiated against the foreigner, the foreigner shall be informed of their right to legal assistance as well as to contact the representative of their country in the Republic of North Macedonia. MYLA conducts weekly visits to the detention centre and informs detainees of their right to seek asylum in North Macedonia. However, legal assistance for challenging detention is not available. The Ministry of Interior decides who can visit the Centre and talk to detainees. UN Convention Relating to the Status of Stateless Persons, 1954: Article 27 UNHCR (2014): Being undocumented cannot be used as a general justification for detention. ENS (2015): State parties to the 1954 Convention have an obligation to provide stay rights to stateless people who have been released from detention. Item	Subtheme	Question	International Norms & Good Practice	Answer	Source
PRS.1.a	Stateless born on territory	Is there a provision in law for stateless children born on the territory to be granted nationality?	UN Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness, 1961: Article 1 European Convention on Nationality, 1997: Article 2 Convention on the Rights of the Child 1989: Article 7 Committee on the Rights of Migrant Workers and Members of their Families & Committee on the Rights of the Child (2017): States should strengthen measures to grant nationality to children born in their territory in situations where they would otherwise be stateless. European Parliament (2018): The EU and its MS should ensure that childhood statelessness is adequately addressed in national laws in full compliance with Article 7 CRC.	Yes. A child who is found or born on the territory of the country whose parents are unknown, of unknown nationality or stateless acquires nationality of the Republic of North Macedonia under Article 6 of the Law on Citizenship.	Law on Citizenship, of the Republic of North Macedonia, Official Gazette of the Republic of North Macedonia n.67/1992, n.8/2004, n.98/2008 & n.158/2011, Art. 6(1): https://www.refworld.org/cgibin/texis/vtx/rwmain/opendocpdf.pdf?reldoc=y&docid=5aabca124 (MK); https://www.refworld.org/pdfid/3f54916b4.pdf (ENG)
PRS.1.b		Is the provision for otherwise stateless children to acquire nationality automatic or non-automatic (i.e. by application)?	UNHCR (2012): The 1961 Convention provides Contracting States with two alternatives for granting nationality to otherwise stateless children born in their territory: either automatic acquisition upon birth or upon application. ENS (2015): The 1961 Convention and the ECN oblige the conferral of nationality to otherwise stateless children born on the territory. The optimal method is to grant nationality automatically at birth.	The provision is automatic but in practice a request must be submitted to initiate the procedure.	Law on Citizenship, of the Republic of North Macedonia, Official Gazette of the Republic of North Macedonia n.67/1992, n.8/2004, n.98/2008 & n.158/2011, Art. 6(1): https://www.refworld.org/cgibin/texis/vtx/rwmain/opendocpdf.pdf?reldoc=y&docid=5aabca124 (MK); https://www.refworld.org/pdfid/3f54916b4.pdf (ENG) Interview with the Citizenship Section, Ministry of Interior. MYLA casework practice.
PRS.1.c		Is it a requirement that the parents are also stateless for the otherwise stateless child to acquire nationality?	UNHCR (2012): The test is not an inquiry into whether a child's parents are stateless. ENS (2015): Only allowing access to nationality for stateless children whose parents are stateless fails to account for the circumstance where the parents hold a nationality but are unable to pass this on.	Yes, the parents should be stateless or with unknown nationality. It is important to note that since there is no SDP, it is difficult to prove that a child has been born to stateless parents (see below).	Law on Citizenship, of the Republic of North Macedonia, Official Gazette of the Republic of North Macedonia n.67/1992, n.8/2004, n.98/2008 & n.158/2011, Art. 6: https://www.refworld.org/cgibin/texis/vtx/rwmain/opendocpdf.pdf?reldoc=y&docid=5aabca124 (MK); https://www.refworld.org/pdfid/3f54916b4.pdf (ENG)
PRS.1.d		Are stateless children required to prove they cannot access another nationality to acquire the nationality of the country of birth? If yes, please describe how this is determined in practice.	UNHCR (2012): A Contracting State cannot avoid the obligations to grant its nationality to a person who would otherwise be stateless based on its own interpretation of another State's nationality laws. The burden of proof must be shared between the claimant and the authorities. Decision-makers must consider Articles 3 & 7 CRC and adopt an appropriate standard of proof. Special procedural considerations to address the acute challenges faced by children in communicating basic facts about their nationality should be respected.	No, the authorities conduct a background check about the child prior to granting Macedonian nationality. The authorities contact the Foreigners' Section to check if the child and parents are stateless. If they do not have another nationality, the Foreigners' Section issues a temporary residence permit with 'XXX' in the nationality section, meaning that the person does not have any nationality or that their nationality is unknown.	MYLA casework practice. Meeting with the Foreigners' Section, who said that they 'determine' the fact of unknown nationality for their own purposes only.
PRS.1.e		Is a stateless child born on the territory required to fulfil a period of residence to be granted nationality? If yes, please specify length and if this must be legal residence.	UN Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness, 1961: Article 1(2) UNHCR (2012): States may stipulate that an otherwise stateless individual born in its territory fulfils a period of 'habitual residence' (understood as stable, factual residence, not legal or formal residence) not exceeding five years preceding an application nor ten years in all. Convention on the Rights of the Child, 1989: Articles 3 & 7 Committee on the Rights of the Child (2015): Recommends the State party ensure that all stateless children born in its territory, irrespective of residency status, have access to nationality without any conditions. PRS.1.g		What are the age limits (if any) for making an application for nationality for a stateless person born on the territory?	UN Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness, 1961: Article 1(2) UNHCR (2012): Contracting States need to accept applications lodged at a time beginning not later than the age of 18 and ending not earlier than the age of 21. ENS (2015): Closing the window of opportunity to apply for a nationality has the effect of leaving it in the hands of parents to take the necessary steps to secure a nationality for their child.	The Law on Citizenship stipulates that only children can benefit from this safeguard, meaning that they must be under 18 years of age. PRS.1.h		Are there specific provisions to protect the right to a nationality of children born to refugees?	UNHCR (2012): Where the nationality of the parents can be acquired through a registration or other procedure, this will be impossible owing to the very nature of refugee status which precludes refugee parents from contacting their consular authorities.	No.

PRS.2.b		Is there an age limit (e.g. 'new-born' or 'infant') in law or practice specifying when a foundling would qualify for nationality?	UNHCR (2012): At a minimum, the safeguard should apply to all young children who are not yet able to communicate information about the identity of their parents or their place of birth. PRS.2.c		Can nationality be withdrawn from foundlings if this leads to statelessness?	UNHCR (2012): Nationality acquired by foundlings may only be lost if it is proven that the child possesses another nationality.	No. It can only be withdrawn if the parents are identified before the child reaches the age of 15 and they have foreign nationality, and this does not result in the child's statelessness. PRS.3.a	Adoption	Where a child national is adopted by foreign parent(s), does the child lose their original nationality before the new nationality is acquired?	UN Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness, 1961: Article 5 ENS (2015): Children may be exposed to a (temporary) risk of statelessness during the adoption process due to the nationality law of the child's country of origin.	In the event of full adoption by foreign citizen parents, the child shall lose nationality of the Republic of North Macedonia by renunciation upon request of the adoptive parents only once a guarantee of the new nationality is obtained. The decision to release the child from nationality can be revoked if the child continues to live in the country and has not obtained the new nationality. If the adoptee has reached the age of 15 years, the adoptee's consent shall also be necessary for the loss of nationality. UN Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness, 1961: Article 4 UNHCR (2012): Where a child who would otherwise be stateless is born to parents of another Contracting State but does not acquire the nationality of the State of birth responsibility falls to the Contracting State of the parents to grant its nationality to the child.	In the case of full adoption, if both parents are Macedonian by birth or at least one of the adoptive parents has acquired nationality of the Republic of North Macedonia by naturalization, the adoptee who is under 18 years-old and lives in the Republic of North Macedonia together with the adoptive parent will also acquire nationality. The child's consent shall also be necessary for the acquisition of nationality if they have reached 15 years-old. Yes, a child born abroad to a Macedonian national acquires nationality if reported for registration before the age of 18 or if the child has moved to reside in the Republic of North Macedonia with their Macedonian parent/s before the age of 18. Parent/s can apply at the Macedonian Embassy in the foreign country to register the birth. PRS.5.f	Are there mandatory reporting requirements that would deter undocumented parents from coming forward to register their children (e.g. health or civil registry authorities required to report undocumented migrants)?	Committee on the Rights of Migrant Workers and Members of their Families & Committee on the Rights of the Child, JGC No. 4 (2017) and JGC No. 3 (2017): Legal and practical obstacles to birth registration should be removed, including by prohibiting data sharing between health providers or civil servants responsible for registration with immigration enforcement authorities; and not requiring parents to produce documentation regarding their migration status. Children's personal data, in particular biometric data, should only be used for child protection purposes. UN Human Rights Council, Resolution A/HRC/RES/20/4: Calls upon States to ensure free birth registration, including free or low-fee late birth registration, for every child.	The birth of a child can be reported in writing or orally to the registry in the municipality where the child was born within a period of 30 days from the day of birth. When a child is born in a means of transport they will be reported to the registry in the municipality where the mother's journey ends. After 30 days from the day of birth, the birth can be registered through a procedure for subsequent birth registration, on the basis of a decision issued by the Directorate of the Ministry of Justice. The law does not stipulate what facts and proof are required to evidence and determine the fact of birth. Late registration is possible in practice, but it is a very cumbersome administrative procedure that puts additional requirements on the parents, which are not easily met. PRS.5.h		Are there additional requirements for late birth registration (e.g. fees, documents, court procedure)? Please describe the procedure including the competent authority and procedural deadlines.	As above	Yes, there are. Parents must pay 250 MKD (4 EUR) for the procedure of additional inscription of personal name. In addition, they need to present (depending on the registry official and at their discretion) additional documents such as: - ID cards of the parents - marriage certificates (or birth certificates for the parents if they are not married) - medical certificate that the mother give birth (if the child was born in hospital) or vaccination certificate (if the child was born in home conditions) - pediatrician's certificate - certificate of education (if the child attend school, if not, notary verified statement from the parents that the child does not attend school and why) - in some cases, registry officers request additional notary verified statements (for example, that the parents are really parents of the child) - DNA analysis (in some cases, especially if the child is born in home conditions)

UNHCR (2014): Action 7	There was a Government-led action in 2011 – 'Action of additional inscription of births and personal names' – whereby the Ministry of Labour and Social Policy covered the costs for DNA analysis for complicated cases of unregistered birth and/or personal name. In 2020, a new Law on Persons without Regulated Civil Status came into force, which provides for a 'special registration' for individuals identified to be without personal documents in the 2018 public call, and for children born after the public call who cannot obtain a birth registration certificate in accordance with the Law on Records of Births, Deaths and Marriages.
